

MA100 TREKKING IN TIERRA DEL FUEGO NATIONAL PARK

Connect with nature like never before! This exclusive trekking tour in Tierra del Fuego National Park invites you to explore its biodiversity, guided by an expert naturalist guide who will provide you with deep insights into the local flora and fauna. Every step of this journey immerses you in a unique environment, allowing you to understand the workings of this sub-Antarctic ecosystem, home to fascinating species and extraordinary landscapes.

EXPLORE AND LEARN WITH A NATURE SPECIALIST:

The true essence of this tour lies in the detailed interpretation of your surroundings. Your naturalist guide, passionate about conservation and environmental knowledge, will accompany you throughout the trail, sharing stories about the native species of the region, from the majestic lengas, coihues, and ñires to the birds and mammals that inhabit the National Park. You'll learn about ecological relationships and discover how this landscape inspired naturalists like Charles Darwin.

AN EXPERIENCE BEYOND OBSERVATION: Along the trail, you won't just observe nature – you'll understand it. The naturalist guide will show you how to identify key species, help you interpret animal tracks and behaviors, and teach you about the adaptations plants have developed to survive in such an extreme environment. This educational approach, combined with the scenic beauty of the place, makes this trekking a truly transformative experience.

MOMENTS OF PAUSE AND CONNECTION: During the walk, we'll take a break to enjoy a snack while reflecting on the natural surroundings. This is the perfect opportunity to exchange stories, share nature curiosities, and simply enjoy the peace of the park. Later, we will continue to a panoramic viewpoint where a delicious packed lunch awaits, ready to be enjoyed in an unparalleled natural setting.

FINALE AT LAPATAIA BAY, THE HEART OF THE PARK: After lunch, the trek continues until we meet the bus, which will take us along the iconic Ruta Nacional N°3 to Lapataia Bay, one of the most emblematic locations in Tierra del Fuego National Park. From here, we'll start the return journey to Ushuaia, feeling the satisfaction of having experienced something truly unique.
